Question: Which American constitutional rights are violated if a private employer fires you for a Facebook post about vaccines?

Facebook post about vaccines, it may potentially violate your First Amendment right to free speech.

